ARCHWAY

Susan,

I feel as if I am writing to myself; however
I could not possibly say all the nice things about me as I am going to about you.

You are certainly one of the most intelligent, cutest, direct, sweetest, and most well liked persons I have ever had the pleasure of knowing. Your honest and sincere personality continues to win many, many friends and your lovable charms are so numerous that one discovers a brand new one every day.

Now, that I am through praising you, although I could keep going forever, I want to wish you more success, love, happiness, and satisfaction and be sure and let the whole world know you are here because it would be a shame if every person did not know you.

Remember me next year and come to see me real often - and real soon.

Love,
Susan

Administration

With a comparatively small personnel at Dan River High the faculty is called on to share a large amount of responsibility in the various extra-curricular activities. These faithful faculty members serve in publications, plays, school trips, and school sponsored occasions.

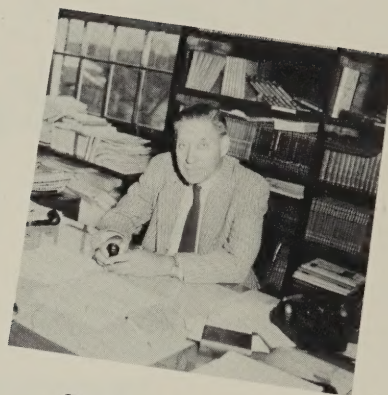

In addition to these obligations, members of the faculty are willing to assist students in any possible way. They have truly executed an influential hand in the educational memories that will be ours.

Counseling

Guidance involves a process of helping an individual to understand and use wisely educational, vocational, and personal opportunities he has or can develop. Our counselors' principal objective is to give to pupils whatever assistance and direction they need to achieve success and happiness.

Classes

Classes offer an opportunity for co-operation among students. Each class elects officers to execute promotions. Every year eighth, ninth, and tenth grades accumulate funds to finance activities of the last two years.

Today opportunities in teaching are tremendous; however only top quality young people, willing to prepare themselves adequately, will be able to meet the rising standards of the profession and the demand of the public for improved services.

The F.T.A. Club in high school helps students explore teaching as a career. By working with children of different ages, observing teachers, and visiting colleges where teachers are being prepared, members discover what it takes to become a good teacher.

THE ARCHWAY STAFF

Linda Slayton
Editor

Kate Eanes
Associate Editor

Last fall the staff could be seen slaving away to meet the deadline: Miss Howard searching hither and yon for some misplaced picture, Edna Earle pecking away at the typewriter, Ronnie and Landon recording ads, Frenda and Patsy scheduling and arranging pictures at the last minute, James H., Jason, and Thomas writing receipts, some doing a little bit of everything, a few avoiding work, everyone determined to create "the best yet". However all was not work for there were countless gab sessions and get-togethers.

The F.B.L.A. plans for tomorrow

Athletics

It is in the field of athletics that one can really feel a part of school life. This can be accomplished through participation in the various sports or through cheering the teams on to victory. There is no greater feeling of pride than that of knowing YOU have helped to put your school on the map.

in the field of sports.

MONOGRAM CLUB

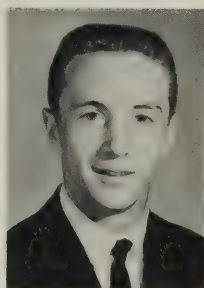

The Monogram Club at Dan River is an organization made up of students who have shown outstanding ability in one or more major sports. Cheerleaders and managers who have served for one year are also awarded a monogram. When a student receives a monogram, he is automatically eligible for admission to the organization, but the decision is up to the club.

The most important event for the Monogram Club is Homecoming. Each year home-rooms and clubs nominate candidates from which a girl is chosen to reign as homecoming queen and three others are elected as attendants. Their identities are kept a secret until the night of the game.

The club promotes fine sportsmanship and friendly competition in athletics, upholds the rules of the school, and promotes interest in sports.

These represent the Wrestling Team

A "crucifix" pinning combination is demonstrated by J. Hawker and J. Arendall.

T. Thompson is shown pinning Jr. Talbard with a "chinese wing and chin."

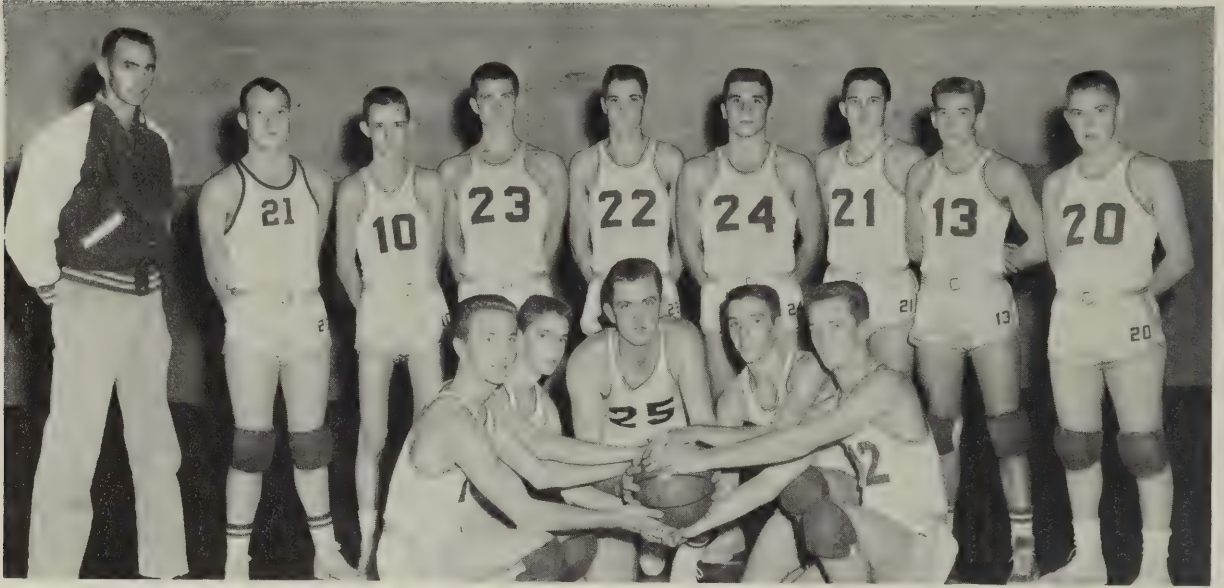

Although Wrestling is a comparatively new sport at Dan River, these boys have worked hard to make their team a winning one. Captain Jr. Talbard is undefeated at this time and Coach Carter is hoping for a state championship. Other boys who are showing amazing skill are James Hawker, Tommy Thompson, Bobby Burnette and eighth grader "Kookie" Myers.

The members of the DRHS Wrestling Team are B. Eastwood, R. Shriver, P. Williams, Jr. Talbard, and C. Hobbs. Second row: L. Guill, B. Burnette, J. Hawker, T. Thompson, J. Arendall and B. McGhee.

The 1959-60 Wildcats began a very successful season on December 4. At the time the Archway went to press the Cats had won their first seven games.

The Varsity Boys were looking forward to the future games and a whispered statement was, "Blacksburg, here we come!"

Managers

The DRHS Kittens began the 1959 season by sweeping their first three games. However, when the Archway went to press they had lost four games, two of which were one-point decisions. The Kittens hoped that with lots of school support they would be able to have their most successful season in recent years.

The DRHS Cheerleaders are chosen each year by the athletic coaches and a committee of teachers. These girls are judged by their appearance, cheering ability, and school spirit. VARSITY BASEBALL TEAM

The Dan River Baseball Team with about fifteen returning lettermen is looking forward to one of its best seasons in recent years. Although some of Coach Myers' boys are sophomores and juniors, they have benefited from experience received in summer leagues and last years' school season. With lots of luck and with the ability they already possess, the Dan River team has a good chance of taking the District crown in the 1960 season.

Last Will And Testament

We, the Senior Class of 1960, being of sound minds--though we've lost our chances to prove it--and in high spirits, find it expedient to dispose of a few of our treasured belongings to the remnant of this year's student body.

I, Irene Adams, leave my curls to anyone who has more time than I do to roll them.

I, Joyce Booth, leave my love problems to anyone who can provide the answers.

We, Brennie Burnette and Iris Prather, leave our ability to get into trouble to anyone who can get out of it as easily as we did.

I, Carolyn Burnett, leave my ability to get A's on conduct to Harriett Mitchell.

I, Kitty Alderson, leave hoping no one ever gets as many unexcused absences as I have.

I, Kate Eanes, leave all the times I gave out on the basketball court to anyone who can't stick to training rules.

I, Lois Gauldin, leave my secrets with Diane Hawker, and my shorthand book to anyone who wants it-----It's "Greek" to me.

I, Brenda Hadley, leave Mrs. Joslin's mind at ease, knowing I won't be riding to work on Fridays with her any more.

I, Frenda Harrington, leave my "lookout station" on the basketball bus to Linda Campbell in hopes she can get "more interesting material for her diary."

I, Brenda Hill, am leaving my school work behind because Joe is tired of waiting.

I, Patricia Martin, leave the keys to the car, my books, and desk in the senior class to Joyce Martin so I can concentrate on that certain Air Force guy and a homemaking career.

I, Edna Earle Moore, leave my long fingernails to anyone who can injure more basketball players than I have.

We, Ann Lynch and Gordon Gibson, leave our dancing skill to Miss Hodnett and Mr. Barker, in hopes that they will keep everyone informed on the latest dance-steps.

I, Gayle Norton, leave my basketball uniform and public speaking ability to Mrs. Chaney in hopes she may win either a debate or county championship.

I, Susan Neal, leave my ability to smile even when I am in a bad mood to Thomas Garrett.

We, Juanita Pruitt and Patsy Johnson, leave our dumbness to Elson Ford.

I, Doris Pruitt, am just hoping I'll be able to leave.

I, Ann Pruitt, leave my condition of rheumatic fever in hopes that romantic fever will soon take place.

I, Carrie Jane Rice, leave my slow typing to anyone that will have it.

I, Faye Roberts, leave in order that the oncoming Seniors will learn more than I did.

I, Kay Roberts, leave my determination to finish school to anyone with enough courage to keep trying.

I, Barbara Saunders, leave to meet Edwin Higgins at the church in March, 1961.

I, Linda Slayton, leave my No. 13 Basketball uniform to anyone who believes it will bring them Good Luck. (It didn't bring me any.)

Last Will And Testament

I, Linda White, leave my ability to break into the lunch line without getting caught to Betty White and Nina Fouts.

I, Patricia Cox, leave my ability to study to anyone who needs it.

I, Anne Daniel, leave my seat in shorthand class to anyone who cares to hear about Carter's chickens and their eggs.

I, Joanne Dodson, leave my long hair to anyone who can put it up at night and get up the next morning and go to school.

I, Sally Chaney, leave my ability to talk on the phone and keep up with school work to my younger brother.

I, Jean Guill, leave my shyness to anyone who wants it.

I, Jimmy Arendall, leave my wrestling skill to anyone who can make my weight.

We, Neal and Maynard Barker, hereby leave our ability to confuse the referee on our identity to anyone who can do as well as we.

I, James Beggarly, leave nothing as I have nothing I wish to get rid of.

I, Roy Bennett, leave my ability to date a different girl every night, without getting into trouble, to Billy Moore.

I, Ormond Bliss, leave the privilege of being a senior to the Junior Class.

I, Jimmy Bobbitt, leave my ability to chase good-looking girls to anyone who can catch them.

I, Maynard Brandon, leave my hot-rodding to Jimmy Haley.

I, Garvin Dellis, leave my ability to get along with Mrs. Joslin to Barbara Franklin and Linda Owen.

I, Jimmy Hawker, leave my ability to wrestle blind to Bill Eastwood, in hopes that he will do better than I.

I, Irvin Hudgins, leave my ability to try most anything once to Bobby Price.

I, Ray Lewis, leave. Gosh, I just can't believe it.

I, Jimmy Neal, leave my crackling laugh to Jimmy Wiles.

I, Thomas Richie, leave my octopus arms to Billy Adams, in hopes he can get better results than I.

I, Ronald Royster, leave my ability to get out of the second Ivy Bluff to anyone who has brains enough to do it.

I, Bob Shelton, leave my locker in the boys locker room to the person who has been taking the things I kept in it.

I, Kenneth Swaringen, leave my bus to Harold Richardson.

I, Junior Talbord, leave my position as Captain of the wrestling team to anyone who can live through it.

I, Jason Tate, leave my position as President of the F.B.L.A. to anyone who can put up with that position and live through it.

I, Bobby Walton, leave my short classes to Thomas Garrett.

I, Ronnie Wiles, leave my arguing disposition to Miss Howard, although she's in second place already.
